

Claims

- [c1] A portable memory device for storing, up-dating and displaying medical records in conjunction with a computer comprises:
- a small case having the memory device positioned therein and having a removable cap at one end of the case having a USB port located at said end covered by the cap;
  - means connecting the USB port on the memory device to a USB port on the computer;
  - a CD-Rom coupled to the computer and having software to provide instructions thereto to input or access data stored on the memory device; and,
  - means for securing and limiting access to the information on the memory device.
- [c2] A portable memory device in accordance with Claim 1 further including:
- password means to provide access to the information on the memory device.
- [c3] A portable memory device in accordance with Claim 1 further including:
- means for inputting medical data to the software and an

ID/pass code to operate a computer accessing medical records from the memory device.

- [c4] A portable memory device in accordance with Claim 3 further including:
means coupled to the computer to print medical records.
- [c5] A portable memory device in accordance with Claim 1 wherein:
the memory device holds up to 48,000 pages or 120 images or any combination limited by the size of the USB drive thereof.
- [c6] A portable memory device in accordance with Claim 1 wherein:
the case is approximately 3 inches long by 1/2 inch thick.
- [c7] A portable memory device in accordance with Claim 6 wherein:
the cap is approximately 3/4 inches long.